

*Hello
and a warm welcome
from the English Tea House
family...*

Welcome to another edition of our monthly newsletter.

As you know, the recent Olympic Games, held in London, are now over. The British were very happy with their results and also a "big well done!" to Malaysia too for their medals! Great sporting achievements all around!

Even after the games, England is still keeping busy by celebrating the Jane Austen Festival, a 10-day celebration, held in Bath, England in honour of their most famous novelist.

The English love their traditional High Tea. So in keeping with this tradition, we will now be offering a special 'High Tea' promotion each Sunday between 2pm and 5pm. We will have a promotional range of sandwiches, salads, cakes and teas for you to enjoy, not forgetting our world famous scones and crumpets of course!

We would also like to thank all of our customers for choosing our restaurant for your private special private events. It is an honour to be part of your family's happy family moments.

See you soon!

*Cheers!
Rory*

Mr Raymond's dinner party, organized for his handsome boy

Ladies enjoying dinner also organized by Mr Raymond

History of Jane Austen

Jane Austen was an English novelist whose books, set among the English middle and upper classes, are notable for their wit, social observation and insights into the lives of early 19th century women.

Jane Austen was born on 16 December 1775 in the village of Steventon in Hampshire. She was one of eight children of a clergyman and grew up in a close-knit family. She began to write as a teenager. In 1801, the family moved to Bath. After the death of Jane's father in 1805, Jane, her sister Cassandra and their mother moved several times, eventually settling in Chawton, near Steventon.

Jane's brother Henry helped her negotiate with a publisher and her first novel, 'Sense and Sensibility', appeared in 1811. Her next novels were 'Pride and Prejudice', 'Mansfield Park' and 'Emma'.

In 1816, Jane began to suffer from ill-health, probably due to Addison's disease. She travelled to Winchester to receive treatment, and died there on 18 July 1817.
